Kudzoomedia was founded in 2004. It is an idea that grew out of a search for a metaphor for the work that we do here. We come from the south where you see a lot of the vine kudzu. It was originally imported to help prevent land erosion, but quickly grew to cover everything in sight. That is what we wish to do for our client's needs; to cover all things graphical that your business requires. We believe that your image matters. Whether it be your logo or just a mail out, if your customer sees, it matters! We strive to help others see what you're all about in the best and most professional way possible. If you have an idea that you need visualized, we've got you covered!

Best Regards,

Ben
